INFORMED CONSENT FOR CONTINUOUS VENO-VENOUS HEMODIALYSIS

I, __________________________________________ have been informed that my kidneys are not functioning and that I need continuous veno-venous hemodialysis to sustain my life. I understand that while hemodialysis is a life-sustaining procedure, it is not a cure for kidney failure.

The procedure necessary to treat my condition has been explained to me by my physician, and I understand the nature of the procedure to be as follows:

Hemodialysis will clean my blood by pumping it through a device that will remove wastes and excess fluids. I understand that Hemodialysis involves, among other things, the insertion of a catheter into my veins and the use of artificial kidneys to filter my blood. I also understand that, along with the Hemodialysis treatment, I may need laboratory tests, radiology and surgical procedures to assure adequate function of the equipment and effectiveness of the treatment.

I have been informed that the following risks are associated with continuous veno-venous hemodialysis and that while such risks are not common, one or more can occur and be potentially life threatening:

- Bacterial and/or viral (e.g., Hepatitis B or C) contamination of my blood which may cause infection, or bacterial infection of the blood called Sepsis;
- Bleeding due to blood clotting problems or disconnection of blood tubing;
- “Destruction” or the breakdown of red blood cells, known as hemolysis;
- Internal bleeding or bleeding from the access site;
- Infections of my access site (catheter or fistula infections);
- Introduction of air into my bloodstream;
- Shock or cardiac arrest;
- Allergic and toxic reactions to drugs, solutions, artificial kidneys or other equipment used during the continuous veno-venous hemodialysis treatment.
- Clotting of my access or infiltration of my access.

I have also been informed that there may be some side effects associated with continuous veno-venous hemodialysis related to fluid and chemical changes during or after the hemodialysis treatment. Some of the side effects are osteoporosis, electrolyte imbalance, headache, nausea, dizziness, fainting, irregular heartbeats, decrease in blood pressure, muscle cramping and mild confusion.
The continuous veno-venous hemodialysis procedure and the alternatives to continuous veno-venous hemodialysis have been explained to me. I understand the alternatives to continuous veno-venous hemodialysis to be: peritoneal dialysis or acute intermittent hemodialysis as clinically appropriate.

I will immediately notify my physician of any adverse reactions or problems I may have with regard to continuous veno-venous hemodialysis treatment.

If my clinical condition dictates and I no longer require continuous veno-venous hemodialysis, I authorize repeated intermittent hemodialysis treatments, unless I specifically revoke this consent. Intermittent hemodialysis confers the same risks and complications of continuous veno-venous hemodialysis treatment as outlined above.

I understand that it may be necessary for me to follow certain dietary restrictions. It will be my responsibility to follow these dietary restrictions and failure to do so can cause bone disease, calcification of my heart, blood vessels and skin, heart failure and even sudden death. In addition, I understand that it will be my responsibility to take my medication as prescribed by my physician. The success of hemodialysis also depends upon my agreeing to remain on the machine for the prescribed length of time so that my blood can be adequately cleansed.

I have read this consent and fully understand its contents. I have had a chance to have my questions answered in words I can understand. I hereby execute this consent form freely and with full acceptance and know of the contents in it. I also understand that this is a legal document.

This consent may be revocable by me at any time, except to the extent it has already been relied upon.
